

Arina Phoenix EPK

Berlin-based Chuvash-Russian singer-songwriter Arina Phoenix' pure, unguarded vocals grace her emotionally moving arrangements drawing from a feathery indie aesthetic, spanning Alternative Chamber Pop to a cool, eerie electronic breeze, with sparks resonating between Björk and Laura Mvula. Her songs explore freedom, self-empowerment and love, as well as feminism and the courage to resist oppressive forces, carving out a space that feels both fragile and self-assured.

Born as Arina Popova in Astrakhan, a port city near the Caspian Sea, and raised in a small town near Moscow into a music-loving yet troubled family music quickly becomes Arina's destiny as well as her escape.

She graduates with distinction from the Moscow State Schnittke Institute of Music, builds a career composing for film and television across Russia and Europe, and makes her mark as vocalist of R.M.F., whose 2007 album "Into" on Ministry of Sound Germany spawns two commercially successful singles.

A decade in Israel follows, where her indie-pop duo YUAR and a mesmerising appearance of Arina on The Voice Israel establish her as a name to watch internationally.

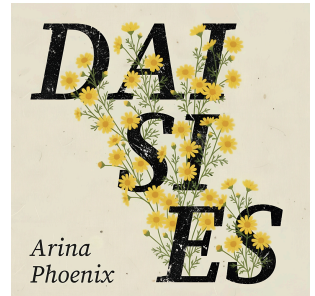

Since 2022 based in Berlin, she now reinvents herself as Arina Phoenix - taking a stand for her creative independence and a woman's perspective in music production. Her debut single "Daisies" offers a first glimpse into her sonic universe.

Arina Phoenix' debut single is the tender track "Daisies": Written between Israel and Berlin "Daisies" is a light and airy production, where delicate electronic arrangements melt into warm saxophones like honey in the sun. A song that evokes a safe place - where light and shadow exist in harmony, manifesting empowerment, love, and peace.
